“The Soviet Union has taken a new and reckless step in raising the threat of thermonuclear war. Acting in the defense of our own security and of the entire Western Hemisphere, and under the authority entrusted to me by the Constitution as endorsed by the resolution of the Congress, I have directed that the following initial steps be taken immediately. First: To halt this offensive buildup, a strict quarantine on all offensive military equipment under shipment to Cuba is being initiated.”

Document B

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Letter to President Kennedy, October 26, 1962 — declassified Soviet-American diplomatic correspondence, available through the National Security Archive at George Washington University (National Archives)

“If there is no intention to doom the world to the catastrophe of thermonuclear war, then let us not only relax the forces pulling on the ends of the rope, let us take measures to untie that knot. We are ready for this... I have participated in two wars and know that war ends when it has rolled through cities and villages, everywhere sowing death and destruction. For such is the logic of war. If people do not display wisdom, they will clash like blind moles and then mutual annihilation will commence.”

President John F. Kennedy, Letter to Premier Khrushchev, October 27, 1962 — declassified diplomatic correspondence, available through the John F. Kennedy Presidential Library (National Archives)

“The first thing that needs to be done, however, is for work to cease on offensive missile bases in Cuba and for all weapons systems in Cuba capable of offensive use to be rendered inoperable, under effective United Nations arrangements. Assuming this is done promptly, I have given my representatives in New York instructions that will permit them to work out this week end... an arrangement for a permanent solution to the Cuban problem.”
