Directions. Read the following two primary source excerpts. Using the HIPP framework and your knowledge of US.87, write a response that analyzes both documents and constructs an argument about the Persian Gulf War's significance as a turning point in post-Cold War U.S. foreign policy.

The sources

Document A

President George H. W. Bush, Address Before a Joint Session of the Congress on the State of the Union, January 29, 1991 (Public domain; Public Papers of the Presidents, National Archives)

“What is at stake is more than one small country, it is a big idea — a new world order, where diverse nations are drawn together in common cause to achieve the universal aspirations of mankind: peace and security, freedom, and the rule of law. Such is a world worthy of our struggle, and worthy of our children's future... The world can therefore seize this opportunity to fulfill the long-held promise of a new world order — where brutality will go unrewarded, and aggression will meet collective resistance.”

Document B

Joint Resolution of Congress, Authorization for Use of Military Force Against Iraq, Public Law 102-1,
January 14, 1991 (Public domain; U.S. Government Publishing Office)

“The President is authorized, subject to subsection (b), to use United States Armed Forces pursuant to United Nations Security Council Resolution 678 (1990) in order to achieve implementation of Security Council Resolutions 660, 661, 662, 664, 665, 666, 667, 669, 670, 674, and 677... The President shall, at least once every 60 days, submit to the Congress a summary on the status of efforts to obtain compliance by Iraq with the resolutions adopted by the United Nations Security Council...”

The question

Using both documents and your knowledge of US.87, write a response that: (1) applies HIPP to each document; (2) constructs an argument about what these documents reveal about how U.S. foreign policy authority was exercised during the Gulf War; and (3) evaluates how successfully the Gulf War achieved the 'new world order' Bush described, drawing on knowledge of subsequent events including US. 91.

Scoring guide

Pts	6-point scale
6	Exemplary. Full HIPP analysis of both documents with specific, historically accurate context, audience, purpose, and point-of-view analysis. Argument clearly identifies the constitutional significance of a specific AUMF (vs. Gulf of Tonkin blank check). Evaluates 'new world order' with specific reference to subsequent events (Saddam remaining in power, Saudi bases as bin Laden grievance, 2003 Iraq War unilateralism, US.91).
5	Advanced. HIPP applied to both documents with minor gaps. Argument addresses foreign policy authority comparison. Evaluation of 'new world order' references at least one subsequent event.
4	Proficient. HIPP applied to both documents but some elements superficial. Argument about foreign policy authority is present. Evaluation of 'new world order' is general.
3	Adequate. HIPP applied to one document fully. Argument about foreign policy is attempted. Some reference to subsequent events.
2	Developing. Partial HIPP for one document. Argument about Gulf War policy is vague. No evaluation of 'new world order' outcomes.
1	Beginning. Minimal document analysis. No coherent argument about foreign policy authority.
0	No response or completely off-topic.

Expected evidence and document analysis. DOCUMENT ANALYSIS EXPECTATIONS: Doc A — Bush multilateral idealism post-Cold War; Doc B — specific AUMF tied to UN resolutions (contrast Gulf of Tonkin). KEY EVIDENCE EXPECTED: Operation Desert Storm (1991); 34-nation coalition; UN Security Council Resolution 678; Kuwait liberation; Saddam Hussein remaining in power; sanctions regime; Saudi troop presence; bin Laden's stated grievances; 2003 Iraq War comparison; War Powers Resolution (1973).
